Small Combine Against the Ledger

Playing with a Double-Edged Weapon.

It has been well known to the proprietor of the Ledger that a coterie of politicians of the democratic faith, aided by a few mugwumps who are anything for gain, have combined to work against the Ledger. This fact has caused no sleepless hours. Rightly interpreted it is complimentary to the influence of the Ledger in this county. Combinations are not formed against the weaklings of journalism or any other cause. It is always the strong one that awakens jealousies and causes a concentrations of effort to counteract its effect. Heretofore we have paid little heed to such things. The Ledger is firmly entrenched in public esteem—the outcome of over thirty years' experience in Amador county, during which not a solitary insance can be cited in which this paper failed to act up to its honest convictions of duty. Of late years we have been content with the business that from choice and appreciation of our course naturally gravitated our way, without pushing for business. The "silly Willies" of the profession, with tactics on a par with their mental brand, have pursued their calling comparatively unopposed, working quietly with the aid of the confederated gang to divert business from the Ledger, and to abuse its editor. We have rarely referred to these conditions in the columns of the Ledger, although fully aware of the program mapped out.

A stranger coming to this city is at once pounced upon by these forces and told of the "bad mau" of the Ledger. If a celebration is gotten up as a business promoter, or a benefit entertainment for a church, where politics and personal jealousies are not supposed to enter, the self-same methods are followed, "Steerers" get busy to corral any printing that might be needed for the Dispatch office, and to prevent any dribbles, from entering the Ledger office. On several occasions in recent years we have not only had to contend with this "boycott" business, but have actually been importuned to contribute funds to carry it out. In other words, we have been asked to furnish money to be used in trying to pull the Ledger down by throwing all patronage to the other office. For our own protection against such low-down tactics, we have resolved never to place our name on any subscription list for celebration, or any quasi-public affair, except on the distinct understanding that whatever printing or advertising might be required, it must be either divided or let by contract to the lowest bidder.

Last week an entertainment was staged here ostensibly for the benefit of the Episcopal church, with 10 per cent of the net proceeds to be gobbled up by the manager from outside the county. Noticing that the Ledger was being ignored as it had been in a previous profit-sharing affair under the same management, the manager, a stranger to us, was interviewed on the subject. Such entertainments depend for success upon the patronage of all classes, and politics and narrow personal prejudices are supposed to be cast aside for the common good.

To the Ledger representative the show manager simulated surprise that there were two papers in Jackson. He said Wm. M. Penny jr., was instrumental in inviting him to come here on a profit sharing basis with the Episcopal church. One of the conditions imposed upon him was that no printing office in Jackson other than the Dispatch should be recognized in the distribution of printing patronage. Afterward, realizing the serious nature of the indictment against our cotemporary, he endeavored to tone down the accusation by side-stepping; but cross-examination left the original explanation substantially the same in all its naked deformity. The "understanding" was sacredly adhered to in a sacred cause up to this point. Naturally the manager of 'A Night of Laughs,' faced with the true situation, found himself up against anything but a laughing proposition. He admitted that he had been misled, that he had made a mistake; it was his custom to seek the goodwill of all by fair methods with the press, and his excuse for a different course here was that he didn't know there was a paper like the Ledger in existence; that the Dispatch was 'it,' and the Ledger was not 'in it,' according to the plans and specifications of "Wm. M. J."

It is only fair to say that as soon as his eyes were opened, by a visit to the Ledger office, and a sight of the pile of papers then in process of being turned out by the press, the manager, Mr. Ennis signified his willingness to make amends at the eleventh hour, so the affair was not the complete patronage frost that interested parties had programmed.

Such miserable schemes, full to pieces of their own weight, when dragged into the daylight. The recoil of such weapons is more effective than the discharge. We make this extended notice to emphasize the conditions that confront the Ledger office, so that the fair-minded people of Amador may understand the conditions and govern themselves accordingly.

The Sutter Creek Fourth of July celebration, the printing for which has been placed in the hands of L. F. Stinson of the Amador Record, has been "steered" in the same lofty spirit with the Ledger being left out as far as he is concerned. We shall explain this in our next, and how it came that the scheme went somewhat awry. If war is the tosin, we can say we are able to give our combined cotemporaries all they want of it.

A family of evpsy fortune tellers are camping along the toll road, and collecting what small change they can pick up by their profession.

The team used as conveyance, is lettered "Fukui Company" 231 N. St., Sacramento, but the proprietor of the outfit has several aliases the Greek name is given as Cristi and the American name John Adams. Five children accompany the mother and father on their aimless journey, and present a most wretched appearance. The youngest is scarcely 2 years old.

Chemical Fire Extinguisher for Sutter

Sutter Creek fire department, which is a volunteer organization, deserves great credit for the progressive spirit it is showing. Two weeks ago a new chemical wagon was purchased from Noot Manufacturing Company of San Francisco, and yesterday afternoon it was tested. The tank holds about 52 gallons. A solution of sulphuric acid and soda is used in forming the chemical and a pressure of 240 pounds is carried. A large pile of boxes and paper were set afire in the middle of Main street, and soon extinguished by the new machine.

Embezzlement Charge

A miner named Joe Mallow Ortiz, formerly employed in Jackson, was arrested Monday by sheriff Gregory on notification of sheriff J. L. Montgomery of Redding, Shasta county.

The Redding sheriff came here and took his prisoner back with him Wednesday. Ortiz is charged with embezzlement of $93, having it is claimed cashed checks, and kept the money.

The story as told by sheriff Montgomery, is to the effect that Ortiz had a check cashed in a saloon at Old Dig gings near Redding, and secured a team to drive to Redding. The proprietor of the saloon trusting the honesty of Ortiz, indorsed checks to the amount of $93, and gave them to the prisoner to have cashed. The prisoner cashed the checks, returned with his team to Old Dig gings, but forgot to turn over the cash, which he was intrusted with. After it was learned that he had slipped out, a warrant was issued, and notices sent out ordering his arrest.

Sheriff Gregory detected the man who filled the description asked for, and immediately made the arrest.

Republican Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the republican county central committee was held in Sutter Creek last Sunday. There were present Dr. Call chairman, H. Myers Plymouth, C. E. Richards, secretary, and W A Burres, Sutter Creek, C. Bradshaw, Volcano, and J. S. Davis, Amador City.

The meeting was held mainly to receive the petitions of applicants in the third supervisor district for appointment to the office of supervisor, made vacant by the death of August Grillo. There were two leading candidates, L. H. Cook and F. B. Joyce. The committee referred the question back to the voters of the district, agreeing to recommend for appointment the man receiving the largest number of votes on his petition. So the candidates want to work on this proposition. Notwithstanding the shortness of time in which to gather names—less than a week—they must have done some lively rustling. L. H. Cook had 207 names appended to his petition, and F. B. Joyce had 87. The total vote cast in the district at the last presidential election was 299—of which the highest elector on the republican ticket received 149 and the highest democratic election 141 votes. So that the total of the two petitions represented only 5 short of the combined vote cast at the last general election. Of course party lines were ignored in securing signatures. Every singer was welcomed irrespective of partivism. L H Cook having secured over two thirds of the total vote of the township was recommended to the governor for appointment to the vacant supervisorship.

Matters of a general character pertaining to the party were discussed. It was announced that John Marchant, former assessor of this county, had signified, at the request of many voters, his intention of asking for the republican nomination for assessor. He is a strong candidate, and will command the earnest support of his party, and many outside of his party. His defeat at the last election was only by a few votes, notwithstanding that Wilford Dennis, the independent candidate, was in the race for the main purpose of beating the republican nominee. There will be none of this complication at the coming election.

The matter of a candidate for sheriff was also brought up by the committee. J. S. Davis of Amador, who had been mentioned as an ideal candidate for this office, declined to run. Others were mentioned, and there is no doubt a suitable candidate will appear to contest for this important position.

DIED

At O'Briens, Washington May 24, 1910, Mrs L. M. Stagg, aged 82 years, 8 months and 22 days.

Deceased was the mother of Thos. H. Stagg of Modesto, California, Mrs M. W. Folger of Jackson, and Mrs Lottie M. Driscoll of O'Brien's, Wash. She came to California in 1856, and lived for a time at Mokelumne Hill, later moving to Santa Cruz, where she resided for more than 20 years. In 1892 she removed to Seattle, Wash., and has lived in and near that city since that time. Mrs Stagg was well known to many residents of Jackson, where she frequently visited her daughter, Mrs Folger was with her mother at the last. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis affecting the entire left side and speech, and the end came peacefully, after three days of suffering. She is survived by several grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

A Pioneer Lady Passes Away

Mrs Eliza J. Culbert died suddenly at her residence at Amador City on Sunday evening last. She had been complaining during the afternoon, but about 6 o'clock became so ill that her daughter, Mrs Bunker, who was there at the time, summoned Dr. Lynch. He saw that she was past all medical aid, as she was suffering from heart disease. She died about 8 o'clock that evening.

Deceased was the widow of the late T. L. Culbert, and came to the state in the early 60's. For over 42 years she resided in the Amador home where she died. She leaves 7 surviving children; three sons namely, C. L. Culbert Ed. M. Culbert, and R. D. Culbert, and four daughters, Mrs Bunker, Mrs McCamet, Mrs T. M. Church and Mrs Dubose, all resident of outside points. She was a lady of high mental and moral character, esteemed by all who knew her. The funeral was held Wednesday last, and the remains were followed to her last rest beside those of her life partner of years gone by, in the presence of a large number of mourners from all parts of the county.

Memorial Day Services

Memorial day services at Ione were interestingly and appropriately observed. A large program was carried out and greatly enjoyed. A parade consisting of the Preston school band and a number of societies were part of the morning features. The pavilion was decorated for the occasion and here the speeches were delivered.

Hon. Fred V. Wood, in his cool pleasing masterful manner delivered a most profound oration on National Enthusiasm. Other addresses were made by Geo. F. Mack, E. W. Perkins and Rev. H. S. Jackson. The program was as follows at the cemetery:

Music, Preston school band; Invocation, Rev. H. S. Jackson; song, Star Spangled Banner, school; decoration of graves; benediction, Rev. H. S. Jackson.

At assembly hall the program consisted of the following:

Music, Preston school band; prayer, Rev. H. S. Jackson; Chapin's funeral march; Ring out wild bells, chorus; Gettysburg address, Miss Aleves; oration, Hon. F. V. Wood; triple quartette, soldier's farewell; music, Preston school band; talk, Mr Dunton; song, abide with me, Prof. Henley; song, Star Spangled Banner, school; benediction.

In Jackson.

Memorial day was observed in Jackson last Sunday in a very impressive manner. Monday was observed as the National holiday by the bank and county officers.

A parade formed in front of the National hotel at 2 p. m., under the auspices of Rathbone lodge, Knights of Pythias, and headed by the Jackson Military band marched to the cemetery.

W. G. Snyder delivered the address in the cemetery, and spoke in part as follows:

We are gathered here to celebrate the vernal feast of this great republic of ours. Here in the city of the dead, the mournful surroundings would seem to betoken that ours is a sad mission. But it is not so. This is a day set apart by a grateful people to be devoted to the beautiful ceremony of decorating the graves of those who laid down their lives for the preservation of the union and the liberty of man. The inspiration whence this holiday has grown is not the mournful fact that those whose work we thus commemorate have gone before, but it is their work, so well done. We forget the mere physical nature and remember only the heroism of the men whose lives and work have given us the recurring years of prosperity, peace and happiness.

The speaker went on to describe the association of plant life and human life by saying it acts as a big link associating present with past. Continuing he urged his hearers to prepare themselves for the final summons and meet death as one passing away into pleasant dreams.

The graves were decorated and the procession again formed and marched back to the hall where the parade was dismissed.

MINE NEWS

ALONG LODGE

Interesting Accounts of Mines Located In Amador Co.

Solano Placer

C. Ream and B. F. Reams of Suisun stopped in Jackson Tuesday night and informed us that they just returned from a gravel claim which they recently purchased from J. Acosto, located in the Robinson district just north of Volcano, and which they intend working in about 2 or 3 weeks, hence the above named gentlemen are representatives for a company organized in Suisun, under the name of Solano Gold Mining Company, and intimate that they have interesting news for the mining world when actual operations have begun. C. Ream, one of the leading factors in the new company, has been prospecting the northern part of Amador county for the past 10 years, and speaks very enthusiastically of the new field of work.

Original Amador

The Original Amador mine located in Amador City is forging ahead in a remarkable manner. Although the shaft is but 600 feet deep, the ledge is all that can be desired and sufficient of it at that. The mill is kept running steady, and several new improvements are under way. A large saw mill will shortly be erected, which will add greatly to the efficiency of this mine.

Keystone

The light and water were cut off at the Keystone mine Wednesday last, owing to the shut down of the plant.

Steam pumps will be kept running so as to prevent the mine from filling with water and all machinery will be kept in good repair, in order to start the mine at short notice. The legal tangle is as yet unsettled, but prominent mining men predict the shut down will not last long.

More Candidates.

In this week's issue appears the candidates cards of J. Daneri and A. W. Robinson, both aspirants for the democratic indorsement at the primary election. The first named aspires for the office of coroner and public administrator. He is a resident of Sutter Creek, and an undertaker by profession. A. W. Robinson is the present justice of the peace of township three, residing at Volcano. He wants to succeed himself in that position.

The card of Judge John L. Childs, republican candidates for the nomination of congressman in the first district, also appears in this issue. Owing to delay in the delivery of the letter from San Francisco, the announcement did not reach us in time for last week's paper. The judge presides over the superior court of Del Norte county, and is highly spoken of for his ability as a lawyer and jurist.

Painful Injury

While using a pick in the Zeila mine Sunday last, Martin Ueberko had the misfortune of having the tool slip from a rock and penetrate the instep of the left foot, inflicting a most painful wound.

Dr. Gall, who is treating the patient says no bones have been broken and expects the young man to improve rapidly.

"It cured me, or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

Gardner Promoted

E. R. Gardner, who has been in charge of the Bell telephone company located in Jackson for the past 4 years, has been transferred to a new territory, and will hereafter have headquarters at Modesto, California. L. H. Kerfoot, a resident of Sutter Creek, and who acted as assistant to Gardner, has been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the transfer of Gardner.

The transfer is explained by the fact that the territory here is so limited as to not warrant the employment of two agents, while the field at Modesto is developing in such proportion that a first class man is required, which rating Gardner is supposed to hold.

CONGRESSIONAL MIX-UP.

A peculiar situation has developed, under the beauties of the direct primary law, in the first congressional district. The opposition to W. F. Englebright—as faithful all-round representative as California has ever had—has taken on a unique complexion. On the democratic side Judge John E. Raker aspires for the honor of being the nominee. Judge John L. Childs is a contestant for the republican nomination. These men are at present occupying positions on the superior bench. Raker is superior judge of Modoc county, and Childs fills the same office in Del Norte county. In addition to his judicial functions judge Raker has found time to do politics on a state-wide scale, having been chairman of the democratic state central committee. The incongruity of dealing out law decisions from the bench, guiding the water-logged craft of California democracy, and running for congress all at the same time, was too much of a load even for a man of judge Raker's varied accomplishments, so he issued a decree of partial divorce. With a keen sense to business, he recently let go of the political chairmanship job—a garden spot of trouble and a desert from a salary viewpoint. He holds on to the salaried berth of superior judge of Modoc county, however, and in the event of his nomination for congress, which is a foregone conclusion, he proposes to continue to hold on until the votes are counted in November, and doubtless long after that in the probable outcome of an adverse verdict at the polls. It is a wise financial maxim not to throw up a certainty for an uncertainty, but the rule does not always apply in political emergencies. Now, judge Childs is credited with a like resolve to hold down the sure thing superior judgeship of Del Norte county while making his canvass for congressional honors. The democratic papers throughout the district are now engaged in chanting the praises of judge Childs, and urging his nomination by the republicans. The flood of literature and advertising matter that is sweeping over the district may have something to do with this voyage of discovery on the part of democrats into republican territory. But probably the real motive is strictly partisan. A superior judge while making a canvass for a purely political office, at the same time drawing salary as judge from both state and county, would be open to criticism. He would be badly handicapped against a competitor free from such entanglements. Why this willingness, they might ask, to break faith with his Modoc constituency and the democratic party by a surrender of the judgeship to be filled by a republican governor. But if the republican congressional candidate is in the same fix, all such argumentative guns are put out of commission. Honors are easy on that score. It would be folly to raise an objection from the republican ranks that might with equal force be echoed back from the democratic camp. It is not surprising that democrats are whooping it up for a republican candidate. It is perhaps good politics, although questionable patriotism and morality, so to do. It is a rehearsal of the game played in the governorship fight, where the democrats are shouting the praises of Hiram Johnson as a model standard-bearer for the republicans, and are registering by thousands as republicans for the purpose of voting for him at the primaries, and voting against him in November. This is an entirely different proposition from a democratic voter registering his dissatisfaction with his party candidate by voting for his rival republican candidate at his own party primary, with the honest intention of voting the same way at the election. That is his unquestioned right as a citizen, and involves no moral turpitude.

Republicans will be wary about taking their cue from democratic sources after the fashion herein outlined.

The democrats are making strenuous efforts to have a candidate on their ticket for every county and township office to be voted for at the forthcoming election. No matter how hopeless the prospect of success, the edict has gone forth that a full ticket must be made up for the primaries. In the absence of volunteers for the sacrificial altar, the managers are making personal efforts to the end that the party line-up shall be complete. That is sound party policy. In our opinion that is an example for republicans to follow. No gaps should be left inviting a hostile movement on our flanks. Let us go into the highways and byways if need be, and persuade them to come in that the ticket may be filled. That is the straight path for the majority party.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

Reported weekly for the Ledger.

A Water-Softening Filter—Silicious Celluloid—The Solar System's Velocity—A recording Hospital Thermometer—Harmful Light—Light-Weight Bricks—Growing Iron Mines—An Ancient Art—An Electrical Ear-Tester.

The water-softening process of Dr. R. Gans, of Berlin, claimed to have solved the problem of cheaply and effectively treating the hardest waters, consists in rapid filtering through a composition called "permutit," which removes the calcium, manganese, iron and magnesium compounds that render water hard, as well as any microbes that may be contained. If desired, the permutit may be so compounded as to leave the lime or the magnesium in the water. One method of preparing the material is by smelting clay with carbonate of sodium, and adding quartz; and the resulting granulous soda-aluminum silicate is capable of exchanging its sodium not only for calcium and magnesium, but even for metals. The gold is sea-water may actually be separated out though it is not stated that this can be done profitably. The cost of permutit is about 8 cents a pound, and when a filter has become exhausted it may be regenerated by the application of common salt. Used in boilers, the softened water not only causes no incrustation but is said to require less coal in making steam.

By the new method of Dr. Clement Botrelle, a celluloid is obtained that is not only unflammable, but is claimed to have the properties of the ordinary material. Celluloid is an agglutination of nitrocellulose fibers by camphor, and the union is usually effected by a temporary solvent of ether and alcohol. In the improved process, silica is added to the solution. The cellulose fibers become agglutinated as usual, but they are coated with a thin film of silica on the evaporation of the solvent.

Several attempts to determine the velocity of the Solar System in space have been made. Taking the displacement of 49 stars about the point toward which the sun seems to be moving, Prof. Stroobant, in the latest effort, works out a speed of 18.75 kilometers a second; and 15 opposite stars give him 21.55 kilometers. Combining results, he estimates our rate of travel at 14.90 kilometers, or about 4 miles a second.

The new British clinical thermometer, expected to be specially useful in watching cases of typhoid fever and pneumonia, keeps a continuous record of the body's variations in temperature, even to small fraction of degree. A flattened coil of 1-250 inch platinum wire on thin strip of celluloid is insulated by a covering of celluloid film, and has the ends connected to ordinary copper electric light leads, a very sensitive galvanometer and an electric recorder being joined in the same circuit. The slightest change in the temperature of the coil varies the current passed by the galvanometer, giving an upward or downward motion to the inked pen traveling on the continuously revolving paper-covered cylinder of the recorder. The instrument is enclosed in a celluloid case, and is held in position in the armpit by a bandage passing over the opposite shoulder. To shield the thermometer from the influence of the atmosphere, the arm itself may be banded to the side.

Considering the influence of light on the eye, Dr. Stockhausen has pointed out to London engineers that an excess may result in injury, no matter what the wave-length may be. The yellow-green are the rays most favorable for the human eye. The heat of the red and infra-red has given these a reputation for very harmful action on the retina, but it does not appear that the effect is really very serious under ordinary conditions. Blue to deep violet and even ordinary ultraviolet rays cannot be regarded as very injurious. The rays to be particularly avoided are the extreme ultraviolet and these are not found in ordinary sunlight, and do not pass through glass. It is in the light of quartz-enclosed mercury vapor lamps that such rays may reach the eye.

Moler bricks are a new building material from a foliated diatomaceous earth of Jutland, and are very strong, very light, and a good insulator of heat and sound. The moler earth contains about 68 per cent of silica, 7 of alumina, and 5 of iron oxide, with some water and a little lime, magnesia, soda, potash and sulphuric acid. The bricks burn to a fine red, are very firm, so tough that nails do not split them, and are as heavy as water, and only half as heavy as common brick. Too porous for outside use, they are specially adapted for partitions, ceilings, arches, walls around boilers, and the like.

A curious kind of iron mining is practiced in Sweden. The ore exists on many lake-bottoms as a deposit, six or eight inches deep, for fragments about as large as peas; and it consists chiefly of ocher or hydrated oxide of iron, with some silicate and phosphate of iron, and such impurities as sand and clay. Pig iron of good quality is obtained from it. The primitive mining is carried on through holes in the ice in winter and from anchored rafts in summer, and consists in using a scraper on a long pole to draw all ore within reach into a pile, when it is scraped into bags on the bottom, and then hauled up. About four tons a day can be secured in this way by two miners. Steam dredges have been lately put to work in a few places, and will doubtless soon supplant the old-fashioned method. Experience has shown that after the ore has been completely removed, natural chemical process produce a new layer as thick as the old in about thirty years.

An industry or art that seems to have reached us unchanged from the ancient Egyptians and Greeks is that of beating gold into thin foil for decorative purposes. John Mastin, an Englishman who has been recently investigating the subject, states that the origin of gold leaf is lost in antiquity, but that the material was used on the skin, tongue, teeth, etc., of some of the most ancient mummies ever discovered, and in some instances on the coffins. It was placed also on tombs, monuments and the like. Gilding with sheets of hammered gold and skins of gold was known as early as the eighth century B. C., and from the eleventh century, A. D. at least the process of bringing the gold into the thin sheets or skins has been substantially the same as to-day. The same thin gold leaf appears even on Greek pottery of the fifth century and Egyptian coffins of the third.

An electrical vibrator for examining and treating the ear is the device of Lidor Muller of Vienna. It includes a tuning-fork vibrated by an electro-magnet and has a side projection tightly fitting the outer ear, so that in the ear passage, the tympanum and the skull itself the tuning-fork sets up vibrations that are communicated to the auditory nerves and to the brain center.

READING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Jackson People.

We are fortunate to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Jackson residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs Stephen Angove, 14 Water street, Jackson, Cal., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for two or three years and can say that they have spared me much suffering from backache and kidney complaint. I am grateful for the benefit this remedy has brought me and have never lost an opportunity to tell other people of its merits. Although I am by no means partial to proprietary medicines, I know that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to all the claims made for them and are worthy of all the praise they have received."

"Lord Told Him" To Wreck His Train.

Wilmington, Del.—William G. Moore, an engine driver on the Pennsylvania railroad, passed danger signals with his locomotive running fast because, as he said, the Lord told him to, and caused a wreck north of the Edgemere yards, near here. Two cars were demolished and burned, but no one was injured.

The engine driver, who is unmarried and lives here, was overpowered and manacled by railroad men with great difficulty. He fought like a wildman and was placed in a strait jacket at the Delaware hospital.

Moore brought an extra freight train from Jersey City. A freight train from Philadelphia was directly ahead and he sent his engine crashing into its caboose with great force. The caboose, which was unoccupied, was crushed and the car ahead of it was wrecked. Both caught fire and were destroyed. The engine of the Jersey City train was damaged badly.

A flagman of the Philadelphia train, who saw the oncoming train, waved his flag frantically, but the demented engine driver disregarded it. What unbalanced Moore's mind is not known.

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities.
Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.
To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

AMADOR BRIEFS

June 1.—A. P. Shibley left Saturday morning, May 28th on his vacation, after teaching the higher grades of the Amador public school.

Mrs Culbert, an old resident of Amador county, passed away Sunday evening, after a short time of ill health.

Amador is getting quite popular on ball playing. Two games of ball were played here Sunday, the younger boys of this city playing those of Drytown. I guess Drytown's boys felt dry all right, as they got beat.

Thomas Chichizola returned home Saturday night, after being in the hospital in San Francisco for some time.

Sidney Bennetts is up from Sacramento for a few days, visiting relatives.

Mr Gregory was a visitor of this city Tuesday.

Mrs R. Merwin left this morning for a visit in the cooler region.

Miss May Kelley was a passenger on the outgoing stage this week.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY

May 30.—The picnic given at Bridgeport was a fine affair. A nice program was held by the school children in the morning. In the afternoon dancing and races furnished the amusements. A dance was also given at night.

A game of baseball was played Sunday in Plymouth, between Fairplay and Plymouth, the score being 7 to 19 in favor of Fairplay. The Fairplay boys just received their new baseball suits. That is the reason that they had such success in playing. Poor Plymouth is having hard luck, getting beat all around.

Ed, Frank, and Bessie Brumfield were the guests of Mrs McClary on Friday and Saturday last. The young people also attended the picnic and dance at Bridgeport on Friday last.

Mr and Mrs Chas Walton, who have been living in Plymouth for the past few years, have moved to the Copper hill mine to reside for the summer. Mr Walton has secured employment at the mine.

Mr Causcia, a native of Italy, who has been residing near Aukum for the past years, was killed at his home. The murderer is not yet known. The remains were found by Lewis Seeley, and are supposed to have been dead about three weeks, as he had bought some bread from Mrs Seeley about the 11th of May, and that evening on returning to his home, he laid the bread on a shelf outside his door, and began raking some hay near the house. The murderer, as it is supposed, hit him in the head with an axe, as afterwards an axe was found with a few blood stains on it. The sheriffs are trying hard to find the guilty one, and all hope that they will succeed.

Gilbert Cobarubia has secured employment at Wm. Harren's ranch.

Ed Brumfield and Mabel Kretcher took a little spin throughout the valley on Wednesday last. That's right Edd, keep on, for "Riley has a girl."

Mr and Mrs Kretcher have moved to the old Bryson place, which they purchased a short time ago.

Mabel Venniwitz of Aukum was the guest of Florence McClary on Friday last.

Mabel Kretcher has been visiting her sister, Mrs L. Seeley for the past few days.

Frank McClary, who has been working in Lockford for some time has returned to his home.

Sadie Putman, who has been at her home in San Jose for some time is visiting her mother, Mrs Wrigglesworth at Aukum.

COPPER HILL

June 1.—Mr and Mrs Chas Walton, who have been living in Plymouth for the past five years, have moved to the Copper hill mine, where he has secured employment.

Ezra Taylor of Plymouth visited relatives here on Thursday last.

Mrs Monterichard, who has been living here for the past year, has gone to Sacramento.

Lon Votaw, who has been employed here for some time as teamster, has resigned his position and returned to Plymouth.

Messrs Moise and Gabriel Roese of Plymouth visited our little burg on Sunday last, and while here were the guests of Mr and Mrs Chas Walton.

Dr. W. A. Norman, accompanied by Leslie Walton, paid Copper hill a visit last Sunday.

Joe Noe who, is employed here, visited relatives in Plymouth on Thursday last.

There are three shafts at Copper hill mine, but only two are being worked. A new road is being made from here to Carbondale, so the ore can be hauled to the railroad station. This gives employment to a great many men.

Miss Gussie Thompson of Aukum, is visiting Mrs Hendricks of this place. Her father, Mr Thompson, has employment here as teamster, and they intend moving here soon.

A picnic was held on Saturday last about a mile from here on the Cosumnes river. Several people from here attended, and all reported a lovely time.

Buster Brown.

OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT

In the evening of May 12, after waiting for the up train so as to secure the mail, the train being an hour late, the stage pulled out for Forest Hill 22 miles distant away. The driver proved to be a man that I had seen many times around Emigrant Gap 43 years ago, although I had not had a personal acquaintance with him. He was surly over his forced wait at the depot for the train. Three men besides myself were passengers on the stage. Down the steep grade the stage went with no comforting thrill to us passengers. Perhaps the stage driver had got used to being thrown about in the stage as an old salt to the plunging of his steamer. Hardly a word was spoken for 2 1/2 miles and then at the bottom of the grade leading down to the forks of American river we made our way up the left fork with steep craggy mountains hanging over our heads. A half mile away a housed bridge could be seen spanning the river. A few minutes only we were crossing the bridge for our ascension up the huge mountain on the other side. We climbed slowly and steadily up the steep grade moulded into shape by hands of pioneer days—men that have long since crossed to the great unknown. Two of the passengers were young men hardly into their majority. They were both collegiates new fledged, both bouyaunt and ambitious in hope of the future. From their conversation they had met by accident, one was going up to where he had some friends working on an electric plant. The other was going up to the Hill and vicinity and from the tenor of his conversation was in the nature of a geologist and was going on an eye inspection of the county. Both men were genial and affable and full of halirious spirit. They had not grown old and gray with disappointment that will follow them like a shadow in the future, for no man escapes it. The other man was a German. Like most Germans, his tongue held him down to his nationality. He was a man of sense and from his conversation was too a man of more than ordinary learning. His whitening hair told him to be passed middle age. He and the two younger men kept up continuous conversation in which I took no part, only as a causal listener. My mind was absorbed in the action of nature that had cut through the great mountains, and left its imprint by the torn craggy sides that hung precipitous above the stream whose silvery gleam moulded its shape far beneath us. When we left it at the bottom it was a river, now it appeared simply a winding brook crossing itself in shadowy shape far below. We were now properly up on top of the Forest Hill divide. On every side of us was steep mountains cut through by deep gorges and canyons with precipitous sides and ragged cliffs standing over them. In a dream I saw nature in her great work of creation when convulsion and earthquake thundered with terrific force in an awful chaos around; where mephitic gases issued from the deep chasms that their force had opened, when the earth in its primal stage knows neither animal nor vegetable life, where all was chaos, all was commotion in inevitable action of nature's endeavors. From my reverie I turned and looked at the setting sun now an orb of gold, now dropping out of sight in the dark blue sea of space in the west. Soon the shadows of night had enveloped the earth, and we were now traveling along at a slow pace with grotesque shadowy shapes arising before us. It was 10:15 at night before the stage held before the door of the hotel that was to shelter us the balance of the night. When I awoke, the glittering shapes of golden sunlight stole their way through the window in my room. I immediately arose, and making my way down the winding stairway, I stepped out upon the street and took a look at the once famous mining camp, once the Golconda of wealth galore. It was a typical mining camp in every particular. No stately houses reared their heads aloft in grandeur of magnificence, but modest in their pretensions, fitful in their construction, they stood as the prototype of bygone days in the shadowy past.

The Forest hill divide as it is known lies between the middle fork and the north fork of the American river. It is high above those streams many thousand feet. It is 40 miles long and from 1 to 10 miles in width. It can boast of more rich mines than any other place of the extent in the state of California. The blue gravel range in Dead river as it is many times called that runs from the lower confines of Mexico to the Arctic regions crosses the upper part of the divide. The American river has cut its way through the ancient bed of blue gravel and has fed the country for miles below with rich deposits of gold. A mile and a half west of north from the heart of the town of Forest Hill is the famous May Flower mine that worked for upward of 40 years giving employment to a great many men and making its owners multimillionaires. Among the other mines of note is the Todd Valley mine, the Dardinella and Forest hill, Whiskey or Turkey hill mine. The Hidden Treasure, Damascus, Golden river or Red Point that had worked 4 miles of the channel with good results. The Hidden Treasure has been working since 1876. This mine now takes its cars in and out the mine by electricity. It is a noteworthy fact that most of the mining has been done upon the rims. It is not generally known too that a great deal of unprospected land in its actual virgin state awaits the capital to develop them. They are deep propositions and one too that is certain to turn out in the future—more gold than has been taken out in the past. This is not visionary, but is practical for the divide properly has been worked along the ruins with the results of untold millions in the past. Now, it is deep minning. It means development by means of capital. No place in my estimation is a place more certain to bring dividend results to the men that put their money in for the development of these mines. The Blue Gravel range, like the great mother lode of quartz stands as the primitive gold producers of the state of California. The little off shoots from this famous range has poured its millions gathered up as pennies, so to speak in the various rivers, gulches, flats and hills of gold production. In my next letter I will tell of the agricultural region between Auburn and Sacramento, built up not so much by its actual intrinsic resources, as by the great continental railroad formerly known as the Central Pacific, but now merged into the Southern Pacific, and known by that name, giving them an unlimited market for their fruits that they principally depended on, and has brought many a man an ample competence by his labor.

BLOOD TELLS

Good blood tells, they say, and bad blood certainly does. Poor or disordered blood tells its own story in lowered vitality loss of energy, in skin eruptions, in rheumatic pains and in a pallid or sallow appearance of the complexion. This is the season of the year when the blood is most apt to be disordered. Take

Ruhser's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla

It purifies and enriches the blood. It cures boils, pimples and other skin troubles. It expels rheumatic poison from the system. It builds up strength and energy.

JACKSON CITY ITEMS

J. F. Wilson, Dentist, Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Phone—Office, Main 75; residence, black 394; Jackson.

I am prepared to go out as nurse to sick ladies in confinement. Mrs. E. S. Ptois, No. 73 E. Court street.

Mrs. Robt. Reed jr. came up Saturday last from San Francisco, after an absence of several weeks.

Jos. Ratto of the Union Stable was taken down with typhoid fever last Saturday, and has been confined to his bed since.

Ratto is under the care of Dr. Endicott, and is reported to be getting along nicely. The young man is a partner in the livery firm of Green & Ratto, and is very popular among the younger set of Jackson.

A. Goldner, justice of the peace, has been confined to bed for several days with a serious illness. His case has been diagnosed as Bright's disease, and his condition is regarded as very critical.

Dr. Hammond, government stock inspector came up from Sacramento, and accompanied by the local veterinary surgeon, Dr. Golding, they visited the Indian reservation about 5 miles out of Jackson, and inspected the stock there. Dr. Golding reports that all stock was found to be in excellent condition.

Frank Cassinelli has secured work in Stockton, and will remove his family to that city. Miss Cassinelli has resigned her place in the post office in view of her departure.

The board of supervisors will meet in regular monthly session next Monday. Jackson is badly in need of more modern fire fighting appliances, and a chemical cart such as Sutter has, would go a long way with insurance companies, and be a safeguard against the many disasters that a city is continuously facing.

Road and state poll taxes are now due and payable to the assessor, and will be delinquent in August. Pay up and avoid the penalty.

Don't forget the drawing at McGary's on Saturday, at 3 p. m.

Have you ever tried those self-dipping well buckets for sale at Weller's Hardware Store?

W. S. Thomas, of the Ledger office, had the first finger of the right hand caught in the job press Saturday, cutting it to the bone and bruising the bone. Dr. Gall dressed the injury. The injury did not disable him from work.

VISITS JACKSON GETS SURPRISE

Amador County Woman Astonished At Many Bargains In City

Sutter Creek, May 30, 1910.

Editor Amador Ledger:

Dear Sir: I did not give you permission to use my cousin's name in my first letter for publication last week, as you stated, but since it was used I will send you my adventure of a second trip, to your thriving little city.

CUNEO'S DRY GOODS STORE.

I met cousin Mary at Cuneo's store as we had arranged, and there purchased several belt buckles and brooches, it was a hard job to select one as they were all so pretty and of such magnificent designs, so we each bought 3 of them. They are so cheap that one can afford to have a change. As we were about to leave the store, Mary spied the daintiest baby clothes, such dresses as you see the fairies pictured in. They were so comfortably built and such pretty patterns that we just opened up the pocket book and bought one for each of our little nieces. I believe for specializing baby outfitting Mrs. Cuneo carries the most refined and cheapest lot I ever seen.

AT WELLER'S HARDWARE STORE.

It would be taking up too much useless space to try and describe the stock that we had to select from at Weller's hardware store. We went there intending to buy a self-dipping well bucket, they are used all over the county, and are claimed to be the most practical bucket that is built. Well we got the bucket and a dozen other things. Some had cautioned us, don't go into Weller's, or you'll hate to come out, everything is so cheap one feels like buying a complete kitchen outfit, and then going home and throwing out the old stock at home. Mr. Weller also carries a full line of machinists, tools and farm implements, and Jackson is indeed fortunate in having so valuable a store in its limits.

VOGELI'S JEWELRY STORE.

Mary told me she wished to buy a full set of silverware for her sister's wedding, but added, wait until we get down to San Francisco, as we can then get a better selection and much cheaper prices. As we were walking down Main street, she caught my arm and pointed into a window. We read Vogel's Jewelry Store, and she said, Oh yes, here is where they are advertising children's sets, so cheap, lets go in and look at them. Once inside you can imagine our surprise in finding ourselves in as prettily arranged and up-to-date jewelry store as one could wish to enter. Everything new and glittering with beauty. We bought a child's dinner set for 40 cents, and then Mary said, will you please show us your full dinner silver sets? Mr. Vogel, the proprietor waited on us and explained as he brought forth the pretty patterns and designs; These are the latest according to my 1910 catalogue and if you can buy them any cheaper than my price, I don't want your trade. Well of course we had investigated the prices before, and knew perfectly well he had the lowest price we had quoted to us, so we purchased the most magnificent set I believe I ever saw.

JACKSON PLUMBING SHOP.

You might tell your readers if my letter is not too long this week, that the new bathtub and bathroom fixtures installed by John Sobretto, proprietor of the Jackson City plumbing shop, are the best that any one could ever wish for. The work certainly was done in a professional way, and the material installed of excellent grade. I had previously heard this firm had filled some very important contracts, and I felt real secure in just telling him to go ahead and use his own judgment in fixing up my bathroom. The old bath tub leaked from the first time it was set up, but you bet these pipes will never leak, for I happened to see him fix them.

GINOCCHIO BROS.' STORE.

I would like to add this week that any one visiting Ginocchio's store will leave with the same impression my father said he had upon his first visit there. That to be sure was many years ago. He said they are honest, and that is enough to be said about anyone, who succeeds in a business life. Their stock is reliable and standard throughout. They carry an ad in the Ledger that should mean to all who read it each week, that they have a store stocked with general merchandise that is equal to any other store in Amador county, and solicit your patronage the same as they held the patronage of your parents.

GREEN'S HOTEL.

We returned to Green's hotel, where we had supper and refreshments, and to prepare ourselves for our homeward trip. By the way, any one who has never stopped at this hotel would be surprised to see the number of blushing brides and grooms that stop here. Why I am told it is a regular Green's and Cupid holds sway the year round. That speaks pretty good for a hotel you know. Some secret which Cupid has revealed to the proprietor, I suppose, but then at that, every one else seems to be happy with the management and surroundings of the place. Sending regards to you, I close, and will mail you another letter next week if you care to use it.

JACKSON BOY DROWNED

Fatal End of a Fishing Trip in Monterey Co.

We take the following account of the drowning of Wilbur Robbick, a native of Jackson, and son of the late Robert L. Roddick, from the Salinas Index. The victim was 16 years and 2 days. He was drowned in the Soledad river, May 21.

Wilbur Roddick, a 15 year old orphan, nephew of A. L. Roddick, a resident of the Fort Romie colony, was drowned in the Arroyo Seco yesterday under peculiarly distressing circumstances. Coroner Muller received news of the accident and left for the scene to hold an inquest on the remains of the unfortunate youth.

Young Roddick and other members of his uncle's family and several friends have been camping on the Arroyo Seco for a week, and were having a delightful outing until the grim tragedy cast its shadow over the camp.

Yesterday morning one of the members of the camping party, Mr. Beham, started down the stream on a fishing expedition, and it was supposed that Wilbur Roddick accompanied him. During the afternoon Beham returned to camp alone. The other campers were surprised to learn that young Roddick had not accompanied him and as time passed on and the boy failed to return, a party went in search of him. The searchers took a course up the stream in the direction opposite to that taken by Beham in the morning. About a quarter of a mile from the camp they found the dead body of the missing lad in a hole in the river. He was clad only in his undershirt, his other clothing being found piled on the bank of the stream.

It is supposed that young Roddick had divested himself of his outer clothing the better to facilitate his angling operations. In wading up the stream he must have stepped into the hole and the water being beyond his depth he was drowned.

In accordance with the above facts the coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Wilbur Roddick was a bright boy, of a cheerful disposition, and his untimely death is a severe blow to his relatives and friends.

Marvelous Discoveries

mark the wonderful progress of the age. A NIGHT OF LAUGHS

Receipts over $300

The musical extravaganza entitled "A Night of Laughs," given at Love's hall last Friday and Saturday proved to be a very good entertainment.

The program was well rehearsed, and the local talent proved equal to expectancy in many instances. The entertainment was under the direction of Harry Ennis, who worked hard to bring out the results which were shown at each performance.

The affair was given for the benefit of the Ladie's Guild of the Episcopal church of Jackson, and the hall was well filled on both nights.

Miss Roma Spagnoli sang a solo "Good night dear," which was well received and applauded.

Dorothy Heiser's song, "I'm looking for a sweetheart and I think you'll do," was charmingly delivered; and Thelma Kay made quite a hit in her song "Oh you Blondy."

Harvey Mason had an elegant opportunity to display his full bass voice in his selection, "If I had a thousand lives to live," and received the praise of the entire audience, for the manner in which he rendered his song.

The swinging song by Mrs. Wm. M. Penny Jr., Mrs. Guido Giannini, Misses Bertha Moulder Lucy Perovich, Messrs. Harvey Mason, A. Myers, W. J. Scott, and J. W. Phelps Jr., was well received.

Seasons at the shore, another musical act was well played, and the singing all that could be desired.

"The pickanninies by Harriet Fisher, Lenore Zumbiel, Marie Weller, Hilda Green Loretta Burke and Lizzie Vollmer, was about the best comic selection rendered. The natural awkward actions of the young amateurs proved far more realistic than could have professional talent acted, and the audience fairly howled with laughter as the little burnt corked pickanninies danced out on the platform, and went on with their song.

Billiken Man, by Mrs. S. D. Kay, Eda Dai Porto, Inez Tam, Orlaine Guerard, Gertrude Green, Dorothy Heiser was immensely engaged.

The entire program was well rendered, but space forbids our going into detail in placing credit to all the individual actors.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets, you can have your money back. FER-DON'S LIBERAL OFFER

Will Treat Diseases for $15.00.

Since Fer-Don's Medical Experts have announced that they would treat any disease for $15, their offices at 1010 Eighth street, Sacramento, have been, if possible, even more crowded than before, people coming from almost every city and town within a radius of 150 miles to take advantage of this heretofore unheard of offer to consult and be treated by these eminent doctors. Just think what this means. It means that until Saturday, June 18th, these wonderful physicians will give a complete treatment to every man, woman and child who calls at their offices for the insignificant sum of $15 for each disease, except hip-joint disease, cancers, and gallstones. This does not mean $15 a month until the treatment is complete, but it does mean that $15 is for a complete course of treatment, whether your case is a simple or aggravated one. The cost of the medicine is included in this fee, and you are guaranteed thorough and searching diagnosis of your particular ailment or ailments. Hundreds of people here in California who had given up all hope of ever regaining health through the treatment of their own physicians have been cured or benefited by Fer-Don's Medical Experts. The long list of testimonials in different newspapers give conclusive evidence of the fact that these experts are really doing a great work in curing all chronic diseases, of whatever nature or character, and if you believe in ocular evidence, that is, believe what you see, a visit to the offices of these doctors or a consultation with any of the thousands of people cured or benefited by them will certainly convince you, be you ever so skeptical, that these doctors with a world-wide reputation do all, and even more than they claim.

WHAT NURSE SAYS.

Mrs. F. C. Pool, an experienced nurse for the past forty years, now living at 2320½ I street, Sacramento, says:

I have been bothered a great deal with pains in my shoulder and arm for several years, resembling the jumping toothache. I consulted and treated with doctors in a number of cities, but the pain got no better. One physician even told me that the nerve would have to be dissected. I have been under care of Fer-Don's Experts only a few weeks and now feel better than I have for three years. I wish I had gone to them sooner, as they certainly have helped me wonderfully.

This liberal offer to treat diseases for $15 expires Saturday, June 18th, and all those who wish to take advantage of it and to register, must call before that time. Fee for consultation and examination is $1. Office hours—10 to 12 a. m., 1 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m.

News of Interest from Near-by Counties

Two Indian women had a mix-up last Thursday which resulted in Jesse Duncan's wife being charged with battery. She was found guilty and fined $10 in Judge Shepherd's court last Saturday. It seems the Duncan woman, who lives on Big Tree road, went to the home of Mary Leonard in this place, and accused her of talking about her sister, Nora Jesus. A tirade of vile names followed and a fierce battle ensued, in which the Duncan woman slapped, and administered a severe drubbing, and almost tore the clothes off of Mary, so Mary had her arrested as stated above.—Citizen.

The early completion of the Stockton and Jenny Lind railroad now seems an assured fact. The rails for the road have been shipped from the east and will soon be on the ground and track laying commenced. The grading for the road bed has been completed as far as Linden and is in a good state of progress to Bellota. Probably the road will continue on from Jenny Lind to Campo Seco, as we understand the copper mines there have promised substantial aid.—Prospect.

The Preston school at Lone offers a reward of $100 for the capture of two escapes from that institution on May 24th. John LeGrande, an ex prize fighter, known as Kid Austin; 18 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches in height, weighs 129 pounds, dark complexion, brown hair and eyes. Geo. M. Edwards, 18 years of age; 5 feet 9½ inches tall, weight 140 pounds, very light complexion, looks like a Swede. The boys have been seen in this county at Mountain Gate, Fourth Crossing and Altaville. May be found working on some ranch.—Prospect.

A big band of gypsies passed through town Friday morning. There were six rigs, most of them double, and about 20 men women and children made up the aggregation. They were a tough looking lot, and we noticed that all the chickens at once sought secluded places. Contrary to the usual outfits of these wanderers, they had some fine looking horses sleek and fat, though most of the steeds would make good crow bait.—Prospect.

Former Forest Supervisor Ellis, now connected with the fish and game commission, was in Chinese Camp during the week, investigating conditions in that section for the propagation of the Hungarian partridge to be placed in the care of Dan Williams this fall. A large shipment will be sent here and will be turned loose about a mile from town, on protected territory. The birds are larger than the ordinary valley quail, have no top knots and are splendid birds for the sportsmen. They multiply rapidly. The promised consignment of the birds will be one of the largest single consignments sent to any county in the state, and the experience will be watched with interest by the members of the rod and gun club. The birds will be sent in the late summer or fall to Mr. Williams, who will turn them loose, and who will care for them if severe winter should follow. As the experiment is a costly one, Mr. Ellis looked into the conditions carefully, and he stated they were almost ideal for the success of the experiment.—Magnet.

T. R. Jones, who for many years held the position of division superintendent with headquarters in Sacramento, has been summoned to New York by the higher-ups of the Southern Pacific Company. Since Mr. Jones was deposed as division superintendent he has been a special agent of the company under direction of the legal department. It is understood that the Southern Pacific contemplates vast improvements in the central and northern part of California, not a few of which will be installed in Sacramento City. While Mr. Jones refused to discuss the object of his call to New York, it is generally known that the big chiefs desire his opinion on certain important matters effecting radical improvements in the system. He will be absent for about sixty days.—News.

Hammerstein Talks Of His Retirement.

Paris.—Oscar Hammerstein said today that he had sold his opera interests in New York and Philadelphia with a view to stopping the unbusinesslike conditions which caused both him and the Metropolitan Company to suffer from the boundless exactions of the artists. His loss last season amounted to $250,000. Hammerstein added:

"I believe that the opera-goers will gain through the new arrangement. The report of my continuous losses are untrue. I always made money, with the exception of last year. Personally, I am not ashamed to say that I retire with sadness and regret, although the Metropolitan Opera Company made a most satisfactory financial arrangement with me. I need rest badly, probably for a few months. I cannot say now what I will do afterward, but I will do something. I could not stand for idleness. The Manhattan Opera house remains mine. I might give fine musical and dramatic entertainments there."

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

RAKER RAKED

Hon. John E. Raker, superior judge of Modoc county, has resigned the chairmanship of the democratic state committee, a position he has held for nearly two years past as a deputy for Theodore Bell, that he may devote his entire attention to running for congress in the first district. He should have first resigned from the bench—indeed, he should have resigned the superior judgeship when he accepted the position of campaign manager for a political party. It is incompatible with the dignity of the judicial office for a magistrate to be so active in partisan politics as Judge Raker has been.

It is true there is not enough litigation in Modoc county to keep Judge Raker busy, but that is no reason why he should devote all his spare time to the activities of politics. It is right as an American citizen to run for congress or any office that catches his fancy, but the framers of the state constitution clearly indicated that they did not deem it proper for a judge on the bench to run for political office.

As a general rule the principal laid down in the constitution has been respected, but Judge Raker pays no heed to it. Possibly he has never read the organic law of the state. Had he been acquainted with that document he would hardly have taken upon himself the duties of campaign manager while occupying a seat on the superior bench. He resigns the chairmanship now because, being a candidate for congress, he will have no time to devote to the democratic state committee. But what about the judicial office he holds? Will he suspend the business of his court while he goes around seeking votes?—Oakland Tribune.

Miner Gets Foot Badly Smashed

A miner named Devecchio met with a painful accident while at work in the Kennedy mine Saturday last. A large boulder fell on his foot and crushed 4 toes, splitting the toes open at the bottom. Dr. Gall rendered professional services to the unfortunate victim who resides near Jackson Gate.

Boy Kills Sister in Indian Fighting Play

Chicago.—Raymond Hayes, 14 years old, shot and killed his invalid sister, Helen, 9 years old, while entertaining her with an exhibition of Indian fighting.

The lad had drawn pictures of Indians on the wall, just over a cot where his sister lay. Breaking open a trunk belonging to an elder sister, where he expected to find some candy she had hidden, the boy discovered the revolver.

The picture and the revolver inspired the thought of shooting an imaginary Indian. He aimed the revolver at the right figure, that of an Indian in full war regalia. Just as he did so the girl started to arise. The supposedly unloaded revolver exploded, and the girl fell back dead.

JACKSON GETS SECOND DEFEAT

Boys Lacked Team Work --Game Almost a Farce

The game of ball last Sunday between Sutter Creek and Jackson proved disappointing to the home rooters in more than one way. The game was too long drawn out, and the score favored Sutter Creek at the final inning to the tune of 12 to 8. Myers pitched the first few innings, and threw an elegant ball. He held the team down to n runs up to the third inning. In the 4th inning Sutter Creek worked in 5 runs and the Jackson team from then on went to pieces, while Sutter Creek's team work began to become more apparent. Steel pitched the entire game for Sutter Creek, and with a catcher, such as Coffman is proving himself. They will be a match for any county team in the future.

Steel is a cool player and also is developing into an elegant base runner. At previous games his plate dancing amounted to little on the score board, but at Sunday's game the genial pitcher brought Jackson out of several trances by making steals that were scored for his team. Steel is the main feature with the Sutter Creek team, and deserves credit for winning Sunday's game. Jackson in the 8th inning realizing they were up against defeat for the first time at the hands of Sutter Creek, decided to put Arditto in the box to prevent more runs being piled up and Sockeye of course did his part but with no batting rally on the Jackson team the score remained as before stated 12 to 8 in Sutter Creek's favor.

Comet Spoils Elopement

Sharon, Pa.—The interest of Samuel Winterburn, of Charleston, in Halley's comet prevented the elopement of his 17-year-old daughter, Margaret Winterburn. For some time she has been engaged to B. F. Johnson, but her parents would not permit the marriage because of her youth. The edict was displeasing both to the youth and the girl, and they planned to meet at 3 o'clock in the morning and elope. When the father arose to gaze at the stars, in the hope of seeing the comet, he found Margaret dressed, with her suit case packed. At first she demurred at telling him the truth, but a "hello" from out-of-doors revealed Johnson in a buggy waiting for her.

For a mild easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

Original Eva Dead

Philadelphia.—Relatives identified the body of the woman who dropped dead from heart disease on a trolley car as Mrs. Clara Pennoyer, sister of the late Roland Reed, the actor. Besides being a member of a family of theatrical artists, Mrs. Pennoyer also followed a stage career for fifty-five years and had appeared in many well-known productions. In her childhood days she was the original Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which was produced at a local theatre.

Sister, Mother Were Her Heart's Desire

Camden, N. J.—Remembering that her sick sister and poor mother at home was bearing her own pain heroically when she was lifted from beneath a street car, her left leg crushed, 10-year-old Mary E. Faulk displayed the most consummate courage when physicians at the West Jersey Homeopathic hospital amputated her leg.

"Please, Mr Policeman, will you get me another leg; I can't help mother any more, if you don't," said little Mary to an officer who took her to the hospital.

Then the crowd gathered and Mary was lifted from beneath the car wheels. She said very quietly, "Will some one take some ice to my sister. She is sick and has a high fever."

Mary was on her way to get ice when struck by the car.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50 cents at Spagnoli's drug store.

Deputy Clerk Resigns

Lawrence Newman has resigned his position as deputy in the county clerk's office. He left for San Francisco Tuesday morning. The reason for his resignation is that his folks are all in the city, and he preferred being with them, to remaining up here alone. J. R. Huberty has appointed Jas. L. Fontenrose to fill the vacancy. He is working at the Kennedy mine, and will not assume the duties of his new position until some time next week.

Finds Rattlesnake In Bureau Drawer

Petaluma.—George Consalves, a Petaluma lad, opened a bureau drawer at the family home to get a necktie. He failed to get a tie, but got the fright of his life, for he disturbed a three-foot rattlesnake, that was coiled up on his clothing in the drawer. When he reached for the tie the snake shook his rattles and stuck his fangs at the youngster who did not stop, but ran yelling for assistance. His father and neighbors arrived in a hurry and the snake was killed with a club. It was about three feet long. John Consalves, an older brother, works on the Mack ranch near Red Hill, and he came home bringing a valise with him. It is thought that the snake was brought to town in the valise and escaped into the drawer. Both boys slept in the room on Saturday night.
